6. REASONABLE ADJUSTMENTS

- 6.1 Where information obtained by the College indicates that a student has a disability, the Principal will consult with the student and the Applicant to determine whether the disability would affect the student's ability to participate in or derive substantial benefit from the educational program at the College. Following the consultation process, the College will assess whether it is necessary to make an adjustment, and whether that adjustment is reasonable.
- 6.2 The College will take into account relevant circumstances and interests when identifying what is a reasonable adjustment, including the following:
- (a) the nature of the student's disability;
 - (b) the information provided by, or on behalf of, the student about how the disability affects the student's ability to participate;
 - (c) views of the student, or an associate of the student, about whether a proposed adjustment is reasonable and will enable the student with a disability to access and participate in education and training opportunities on the same basis as students without disabilities;
 - (d) information provided by, or on behalf of, the student about his or her preferred adjustments;

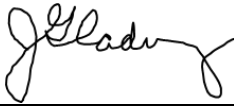

- (e) the effect of the proposed adjustment on the student, including the student's ability to participate in courses or programmes and achieve learning outcomes and independence;

- 6.3 The Principal may require the Applicant to provide medical, psychological or other reports from external specialists, and/or require an independent assessment of the student to enable the College to determine what adjustments are necessary and whether they are reasonable (having regard to the criteria above for determining reasonable adjustments).
- 6.4 If reasonable adjustments are necessary to enable a student to enrol in or participate at the College, the College will make those adjustments to the extent that they do not involve unjustifiable hardship. In determining whether an unjustifiable hardship would be imposed on the College, the Principal will take into account the relevant circumstances of the case, including:
- (a) the nature of the benefit or detriment likely to accrue or be suffered by any persons concerned (such as other students, staff, the College community, the student and the family of the student). This includes (without limitation):
 - (i) costs resulting from the student's participation in the learning environment, including any adverse impact on learning and social outcomes for the student, other students and teachers;

 - (b) the effect of the disability of the student;
 - (c) the College's financial circumstances and the estimated amount of expenditure required to be made by the College - including costs associated with additional staffing and the provision of special resources or modification of the curriculum;
 - (d) the impact of the adjustments on the College's capacity to provide education of high quality to all students while remaining financially viable;
 - (e) the availability of financial and other assistance to the College (such as financial incentives, subsidies or grants available to the College as a result of the student's participation); and
 - (f) the nature of the student's disability, his or her preferred adjustment, any adjustments that have been provided previously and any recommended or alternative adjustments.
- 6.5 The Principal will discuss with the student and his or her family (as appropriate) the concerns that it has regarding any proposed adjustment that would cause unjustifiable hardship to the College.
- 6.6 If the Principal is satisfied that it has sufficiently consulted the student and the Applicant (as appropriate) and:
- (a) adjustments required are not reasonable;
 - (b) adjustments required would cause unjustifiable hardship; or

- (c) where the student could not or cannot participate in or continue to participate in or derive or continue to derive any substantial benefit from the educational program even after the adjustments were made,
